Personality

I am an empathetic communicative extrovert who likes to meet new people, new cultures and enjoys working in a team. I enjoy direct communication with clients who have always been satisfied with my work. This concerned my freelance projects for the events "Dny AI 2022" in Brno and "Hackathon 2023" of the JINAG agency, for which I created presentation websites. I show my introverted side of my personality mainly when programming and solving problems related to application/program development, which I like to solve in an isolated environment.
